Angry Taxpayers Talk Group Action

Newmarket—Rumors have been heard from many sources this week that a ratepayers' association is going to be formed in Newmarket as a result of the new assessments. There has been no definite action to start such an association as yet but one Main St. businessman feels that the time is ripe if someone would take the initiative.

Since ratepayers received their new assessment in the mail last week, the objections from property owners and assessment has been the main topic of discussion. A man in the real estate business said he has had at least 50 phone calls from angry ratepayers who wish him to take their cases to the court of revision.

One ratepayer is reported to have expressed a desire to take everyone from a certain street to the nomination meeting tomorrow night and get in a new council. This anger against the council is not justified in this case as council had appointed an independent assessment board to do the job.

Citizens' Band Concert Well Received

Newmarket—Last Sunday evening, after church service, the Citizens' Band gave one of its delightful Sunday evening concerts with Rev. F. Breckon as chairman. The band presents a colorful picture in their scarlet uniforms and under the able leadership of Bandmaster Wm. Greig presented a delightful program of military, descriptive and sacred music. The marches were stirring and were enthusiastically received. Among the descriptive numbers were Echoes from Scotland and Old Songs of England. The sacred selections were beautiful and well chosen—and most appropriate. Newmarket has every reason to be proud of its Citizens' Band.

Acclaim Mayor, Reeve, Deputy

Aurora—With between 125 and 150 ratepayers in attendance on Monday evening, Mayor Dr. Crawford Rose of Aurora, Reeve A. A. Cook and Deputy Reeve R. H. Corner were acclaimed for the year 1949. Nominations were held for next year's council, for the school board which has three vacancies and the hydro commission with one vacancy. Individual reports for the current year were tendered by Mayor Rose, Reeve Cook, Deputy Reeve Corner, the six councillors, the hydro commission and the public school board. It was shown that the finances and the town in general were in a progressive and healthy state and all reports were accepted without question.

Speaking in reference to the building permits committee Mayor Rose disclosed that 43 building permits were issued during the past year with a total value of $210,000. He also said in his report on the Police Commission that Aurora was well policed and its citizens well protected. A detailed report of all investigations and work by the Aurora police was read. Reeve Cook, in discussing Aurora's water supply, stated that the present supply was adequate, but that with future growth more water would be needed. This, he proposed, would mean additional artesian wells. Reeve Cook also disclosed that the new automatic controls for pumping water at the pumping station were now completely installed and that the new water mains were expected to be completely installed before freeze-up.

Speaking on behalf of the streets committee Deputy Reeve Corner reported that Aurora's eight miles of unpaved streets were this year scarified, graded and oiled at a cost of $770 per mile. This was considerably lower than the earlier estimates which ran as high as $2,000. Discussing the problem of upkeep of Yonge St. he told how with the Department of Highways where the problem had been thrashed out. While nothing definite has been done as yet, it is expected that the department will bear 50 percent of the cost.

The action of the council in not granting the request of the public school board for the issue of debenture for the erection of the new public school was justified by Councillor Charles Davies on the grounds that it had been over two years since a plebiscite had been taken authorizing the expenditure of this money. In the meantime the tax rate had "run ten mills. In addition the public had been given to understand a year ago that no contract would be let on

Aurora—For 35 years employed at Sisman's Shoe Company, Herbert Stocks died suddenly at his home on Wellington St., Sunday, after an illness of four weeks. He was in his 40th year. Junior Farmers To Be Broadcast

An interesting part of the York County Junior Farmers' fall program is its broadcast over station CHML, Hamilton. York county has been prominent on these programs for two years and this year will again present a fall and spring program. These were formerly known as the "Saturday Night Junior Farm Show" but since then the time has been allotted on a Thursday night. This year the first broadcast will take place December 2 at 9:30 p.m. Dial 900.

Following former broadcasts there will be both a musical and discussion period. Mrs. Dorothy Bowman of Newmarket, on the dramatic staff at the summer Junior Farmer Camp, has written the script around those interesting camp activities. Miss Margaret Watson of Kleinburg will supervise the musical numbers, based again on camp life. Mrs. Doreen Mitchell of Oak Ridges is responsible for the production. Schomberg, Velore, Victoria Square and Unionville Junior Farmers will participate in this season's broadcast. Tune in and hear your Junior Farmers on the air.

Commencement Speaker Warns Grads Of Elders' Faults

Newmarket—Shirley Andrews gave the valedictorian address at the graduation exercises at Newmarket high school last Friday night before a crowd of students staff and parents that packed the auditorium.

"Ours is the most difficult farewell," Miss Andrews said. "For us this is the last graduation in which we shall be actually interested. For some of us it is also the parting from many of our school-day friends but others will go together. We are venturing into the unknown which spells experience and now we must depend on all our schooling, particularly the last four or five years, as a foundation. We have received all the benefits of Newmarket high school, some of its ideals, some of its glamor and some of its hope. Let us not forget these and always hold them dear for these great things are your school, your own N.H.S."

Before the commencement program the graduates, members of the board, staff and senior classes attended a dinner at the school. On the program, which was under the chairmanship of R. Dick of the school staff, there were two Glee club numbers under the direction of Herman G. Fowler, Mus. Bac., Barcarolle by Offenbach and Pledge the Canadian Maiden, a folk song.

A piano duet, King of the Forest, was played by Joan and Pauline Boylur. Jean Squires and Mary Lou Little sang a vocal duet, When the Roses Bloom Again and Helen Epworth's piano solo was Chopin's Fantasia-Inpromtu. Guests and staff were introduced by Principal J. W. Lockhart. Presentations of scholarships and prizes were made by Mrs. J. C. R. Edwards, G. A. James, Wm. Geer, Miss Roberts, Miss King and Mr. Lockhart.

Newmarket—Members of the fire brigade were the guests of Newmarket Lions club on Monday night when they heard the guest speaker, 78-year-old Bill Kolkmamp, Brantford, who was once boxing champion of the Pacific coast in the United States for three years and a well known athlete.

Born in Chicago, Bill Kolkmamp began his career seriously as an athlete at the age of 12 when he was urged to strive for the top in professional athletics. Lions saw an exhibit of pictures showing the athlete in his young days and a box of medals that would cover his whole chest which he won in boxing, track and field sports, fencing and various other athletic contests in the United States. A spirited speaker, Bill told of his acquaintances with many of the old time fighters and champions and of many experiences in the sporting world of his era. Names of fighters he used were

National Group Offers Entries

Newmarket—This centre may again see the annual fall fair which was discontinued a number of years ago.

It is understood that the backing of the Canadian Horseshows' Association is being freely offered towards a revival of the fair. In Newmarket, there is an expanding group of businessmen and farmers who, if given sufficient backing by town and district, plan to promote the fair for next fall.

As they visualize it, they see emphasis placed on livestock and the show ring.

Among the difficulties which may be encountered is the need to renovate the fairground which has not been given much attention since its use as a parade ground during the war. A fence will be required around the track, posing another difficulty since there is now a right-of-way across the track to the drill hall which is now occupied by an industry.

It is believed these difficulties can be overcome if there is sufficient interest to warrant the project. The support of the Canadian Horseshows' Association carries with it the promise of entries by many of its members.

Gormley Church Plans Whitchurch Cemetery

Plans for a cemetery at Gormley in the name of the United Methodist Church were submitted to the town council of Whitchurch last week.

"I am afraid the land set apart is too small," said Reeve L. P. Evans, "and would recommend the application be submitted to our solicitor."

Council decided on this course. The proposed cemetery is adjacent to the United Methodist church in New Gormley and has been under consideration for several years. The land was donated for the purpose.

However, it is pointed out that application for the establishment of a cemetery should be made to the board of health, and to the Ontario department of health whose approval must be obtained.

There is nothing in the cemetery act to provide for the size of a new cemetery, but there is provision for enlargement at any time by expropriation, should it be necessary to increase the accommodation, it is pointed out.

Whitchurch Twp. Nominations Nov. 26

The annual municipal election period is drawing near. Nomination night is Friday, Nov. 26, in the municipal hall and if an election is demanded it will take place on Monday, Dec. 13.

This is one of the most important meetings held in Whitchurch in the whole year. It is the time you make a choice of those whom you wish to handle your town affairs for the ensuing 12 months. It is a time to voice your approval or disapproval of those whom you have entrusted this responsibility the past year.

If the public services have been discharged to your satisfaction, it is well to come forward and say so, just as it is right that you should be on hand to voice your disapproval of the conduct of affairs.

On this date, November 26, Whitchurch voters will be asked to nominate a reeve and four councillors, a member to the cemetery board and three public school trustees. Persons nominated for the reeve and for positions on the council must be present personally otherwise they cannot be nominated. However, if it is impossible to be on hand, and a written sanction is signed to the effect that if nominated you will stand for the office, then that person's nomination shall be accepted by the clerk.

It is on this night the reeve and members of council have an opportunity to lay before the ratepayers their municipal problems, and the least ratepayers can do is to come and listen or take part in the discussions.

Last year Stouffville had a lively run for seats on the council. The situation could repeat itself. There could be a good contest for reeve and for seats on the council. Despite the fact this newspaper believes the present council have served faithfully and did a good job others may think differently.

Another thing, councillors who serve next year may expect some slight remuneration for their services. Markham village and Stouffville are perhaps the only two municipalities in the 26 in York county who do not pay councillors some kind of token. It has been suggested by some members now serving that if they accept next year it will be on this basis.

Willing Workers To Elect Officers

Pine Orchard—Willing Workers will meet at the home of Mrs. Ross Armitage who will be assisted by Mrs. Frank Sheridan on Wednesday afternoon, December 1, at 2.30. Topic, The Three Wise Men, will be taken by Mrs. Sydney Edwards. This will be the annual meeting and election of officers. Convenors are requested to have reports ready.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Knapp, Elgin Mills, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Sytema.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hancock, Richmond Hill, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Edwards, Cedar Valley.

W.I. meeting was held at the home of Mrs. L. J. Harper on November 17. There was a good attendance. Mrs. M. McMillan, the first vice pres., was in the chair. A moment's silence followed by singing of the hymn, "The Lord is my Shepherd." The tie that binds was observed in memory of Miss Leda Hartin who passed away October 20.

A letter was read from a sister W.I. in Britain acknowledging receipt of a box of soap and jelly powders. Arrangements were made to ship a parcel of clothing and more food parcels. A report of the convention at the Royal York hotel, Toronto, was given by Mrs. Ross Armitage.

Mrs. B. Dike was chairman for the program. Roll-call was a home made Christmas present. Current events by Mrs. J. Pyle and a piano duet by Donald and Beth Johnson were next. Lunch was served by the agriculture and Canadian industries committee of Mrs. B. Dike, Mrs. M. McMillan, Miss Emily Francis, Mrs. J. Pyle, Mrs. H. Brammer, Mrs. C. Link and Mrs. L. J. Harper. Orders for Christmas cards may be left with Mrs. B. Dike. Proceeds are for W.I. welfare work.

Mrs. N. White, Brooklyn, chairman of W.I. convention, stressed the need to train leaders and endeavor to live up to our motto: "Home and Country." Health and nutrition courses help build stronger bodies and minds, she said. Less trigonometry in high school and a course on how to be a good father would be a good investment and one that would yield large dividends in the future. She urged branch Institutes to compile "Tweedsmuir history books." These books will be a lasting tribute to our pioneers. Keep the high ideals of our pioneers before our children. "He who knows his own generation only remains always a child." This inscription is carved over the entrance to Boulder Dam University, Boulder Dam, Col.

Mr. R. S. Lambert of CBC educational dept., urged a radio with good reception in every school room. The Ontario department of education and CBC sponsor 30-minute programs.

Trailer In School Yard Discussed In Council

Building inspector J. A. Clarke asked Whitchurch council for some instruction or direction as to what should be done in certain instances where the building by-law is being broken.

The assistant school teacher at Ballantrae, he pointed out, is living in a trailer on the school grounds, cares for her nine-year-old daughter and is meeting an emergency in the school where a second teacher became necessary because of the increased school attendance. The inspector said he hesitated to take any action against the trustees or anyone else in the emergency although the township by-law forbids trailer homes of this type.

Another twp. by-law is being broken where in the case of a man obtaining a building permit for a house and garage has erected a shack garage and has moved in, promising to build a house later. The inspector was advised to watch this case, and see that the house is started in reasonable time otherwise he was told to impose the penalty of the by-law on the person obtaining the permit.

The Ballantrae school case was not so easily settled. However, the inspector was advised to try and have the situation cleared up as soon as possible.

Film Board Shows Found Entertaining, Instructive

Holland Landing—Well folks, Thursday night those of us who went to the school house were treated to an imaginary trip to Hawaii where we learned how pineapples and sugar cane are grown and harvested and then how the natives live and what they eat. Our next picture took us to Yellowstone showing how much needed machinery and supplies are taken to that far northern town by tractor train. We also saw Canada Dances, an amusing picture of the different communities and different dancing customs in Canada.

Then we saw the D.P.'s arriving in Canada and the Royal Wedding, timely as the Royal couple celebrated their first anniversary this weekend. Our last picture was a color comic, always welcome to the children, young and old. These pictures were enjoyed by all present and we would like to see more people present at these National Film Board shows. They are free, entertaining and tell of the different parts of our own country as well as other countries. There will be another show in December and we hope to see a lot more people there, especially adults.

over CJBC covering music appreciation, dramatized history, guidance and advice on future careers, English literature, and health hygiene. W.I. members individually should take active parts in politics. Politics may solve world peace. Women have not yet exerted their political power for things they believe in, he said.

In July, 1949, a summer holiday is to be held at O.A.C., Guelph, for district officers and members of W.I.

The question box, in the charge of Miss Anna Lewis, director of home economics, department of agriculture for Ontario, proved most instructive. The resolutions forwarded by branch Institutes covered closing beverage rooms to women and not re-opening them, franchise be extended to Indian population, increased old age pensions and many others proved that W.I. members are alert to human needs and anxious to alleviate pain and suffering. W.I. is given time on Rex Frost's program at 12.15 on Thursday over CFRB.

A round-table discussion by five eminent men and women on citizenship proved interesting. A group from Madison folk school at Unionville entertained with several folk dances which were lovely and exceptionally well interpreted. The convention was filled with inspiration and good fellowship. The 1949 convention will be held at the Royal York hotel, Toronto, on November 8, 10 and 11.

Aim of W.I. is to have a home economist in each county same as department of agriculture representative.

Educational pictures by National Film Board will be shown at Pine Orchard school on Friday evening, Dec. 3. These pictures cost department of agriculture thousands of dollars and deserve a good attendance by grown-ups and children. Everybody welcome.

Hope Hobby Club Bids Goodbye To Mrs. McNern

Hope—The Hope Hobby club held an enjoyable meeting at the home of Mrs. Harry Walker on November 18 with a splendid attendance of members and Mrs. Earle Walton, Mrs. Elmer Farr and Miss Erma Lunnay were guests. The president, Mrs. Bruce McNern, led in a singing and prayer for world peace. The response to roll-call of helpful hints for good grooming brought forth varied interesting ideas such as "cleanliness, a charm all its own", "well-kept hands and nails", "straight seam in stockings", "heels on shoes kept repaired", "good foundation garments", "well brushed hair", "attractive but not conspicuous make-up". The customary exchange of Christmas gifts will be for December roll-call.

A good collection of woollen goods for blankets was received. The question box proved interesting, discussions on the raise in our telephone rates, attendance at municipal nominations and school meetings, a skating rink for the youth of the community, a coming depression, all brought much information.

The resignation of Mrs. Bruce McNern was regrettably accepted. She spoke of the many friendships made through the club and how she had enjoyed acting as president for the last three years. Mrs. John Farr, the vice pres., presented her with a unique locket-brooch and a silk umbrella, on behalf of the 40 members. The December meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Ivan Eves, a week earlier than usual, December 14.

Do Your Beefing Friday Night

Friday night is nomination night. What will happen this year? Will the record of last year, an attendance of 100 from a population of 4,521, be broken? Or will tradition be observed and attendance slump to its usual 50 or so, including candidates?

There are hopes for a lively meeting in the near-unanimity of protest at the new assessments. It seems reasonable to assume that there will be some scorching questions on the town's financial picture. But even these issues, as pertinent as they are, will have difficulty overcoming the resistance of the citizens to anything remotely resembling their civic duties.

The citizen of the democracy has the privilege of a free ballot, of naming his own representative. But there is no record of such privileges ever being maintained when they were not exercised. The citizen has the obligation of making use of those privileges lest they be discarded from indifference.

Newmarket has shown a vast indifference to the processes of self-government while keeping up a steady sniping at council and school board. It would be more fitting if the beefs were argued at nomination night and preferences shown on election day.

Say It In Court

There is all manner of talk about the formation of a property-owners' association to "fight the new assessment". Such talk is downright foolishness. Newmarket can use such an association, but not for the purpose of fighting the new equalized assessment. There is a court of appeal if a property-owner feels his assessment is too high. That is where he should apply, not to a property-owners' association.

The talk of the property owners' association is only one manifestation of the shock felt by many when they received their new assessments. Perhaps it will awaken sleeping citizens to their obligations. One citizen remarked that he was quite in sympathy with the purpose of the equalization, that he knew the town needed money, but that after watching this year's council in action, he had some doubts about entrusting to them the anticipated higher town revenue.

If this citizen has doubts about the ability or judgment of the council, he should take those doubts to nomination night and to the polling booths, instead of following current practice, of beefing and beefing—and doing nothing to correct the causes.

Licensing Construction

The need for the regulation of construction within Newmarket was strongly emphasized in the report of the assessors. It might seem an imposition of authority without cause to those citizens accustomed to build as they wish on their own property and believing they possess the skill to do so. However, the assessors found instances where, through lack of skilled supervision, construction was unsafe and represents a continuing threat to the safety of those in the building.

This condition has often been remarked upon but without leading to any action to prevent its repetition. Perhaps the recommendation of the assessors will have some effect. With a town engineer to police construction, there is no reason why construction work shouldn't be licensed and inspected, to the subsequent public safety.

Same Old Methods

The leader of the federal Progressive Conservative party has opened his campaign in Carleton with much the same tactics he used as provincial leader. Under fire because of the hydro shortages, he calls his critics liars, just as he answered charges against his liquor policies in Ontario.

One might have thought that Mr. Drew would have shaken such boorish practices for those more in keeping with his new employment. That has been proven an unwarranted assumption. His habits as Ontario leader, which proved so distasteful to Ontario that his own riding repudiated him in favor of a C.C.F. candidate, persist in the larger sphere of national politics. His advisers should tell Mr. Drew that Canadians prefer a little dignity, a little restraint, in the conduct of national leaders. Mr. Drew's brash assurances that Canada is ready to turn to his party are hardly encouraged by his own conduct. If he wishes to answer his critics, let him do so in a manner befitting his new position—not by crying liar to all who criticize.

Letters to the Editor

The editor: Full of awe and civic interest, I watched heavy machinery chew off the corner of Prospect St. and Water St. some time ago, where there is a jog out to Gorham. Evidently, I thought, this was the result of some intelligent municipal planning and that there would result a new thoroughfare at the corner with proper signs, sidewalks and curbs, replacing the former dangerous intersection.

The heavy machinery departed but no sidewalks, pavement or curbs were put in the new cut. The way it is now, it only confuses car drivers, specially strangers. Besides, if they drive along the new cut they are liable to break a spring in the ditch at the bottom of the hill. The unfortunate pedestrian during a rain-storm steps off the end of the sidewalk and finds himself on a greasy mud slide. The only alternative for the pedestrian is to strike out for the road where he is the target of passing cars and trucks.

Municipal fathers, county council or whoever is responsible, please finish the job you started. At least give us a sidewalk. I'm tired of wading through the mud every trip to Main St. on a rainy day.

Other Editors' Opinions

The Financial Post—Certainly no other major industry in Canada, and mighty few of the lesser ones face the weather hazard that agriculture must take in its stride.

Just six months ago the three Prairie provinces were literally waterlogged. Rain fell almost continuously and great areas along the rivers were flooded.

But at last the sun shone, the weather turned warmer but fortunately not too warm and in most sections with the aid of modern machinery the farmer got his crops sown and even a harvest that measured up close to average.

Now the situation has changed and over 60 million acres of rich prairie soil hangs the shadow of drought. Six months ago the farmer wondered whether the rains would ever cease, now he wonders whether they will ever start again.

The Letter-Review—General Eisenhower made an extremely wise statement, that the real danger of public ownership is not that it will produce inefficient operation, but that it will lead inevitably to the end of liberty. He might have pointed out that the real trouble is that a state-owned enterprise has to choose between letting men loaf, as they always do in government service, or forcing them to work by the true Socialist or Communist plan of forced labor.

U.K. railways are a bang-up example. Taken over by the state, they are already experiencing a great loss of efficiency; heavy increases in costs. They have already pushed their charges for service up to a danger point, and now have to choose between impossible increases in these charges, or large drafts on the taxes, which the Socialist government from the first announced that nationalized industries would not be permitted to make.

Swift Current Sun—A radio commentator, government inspired, was on the air last week showing statistics that the consumption of milk in Canada, per capita was decreasing. The intention was, he announced, to issue hundreds of thousands pamphlets for general distribution, the basic theme being that for better health people should drink more milk, see that the children do.

In our opinion there has been plenty of education, fostered by health departments, federal, provincial and municipal, teaching people the value of milk as a basic food. What we think is the trouble is that the cost of milk is too high, as the rest of the cost of living is, and moderate wage-earners with families find it increasingly difficult to buy as much milk as they used to. The problem is that simple of solution. It's not that people fail to realize the food value of milk. They just can't afford as much as before. The government experts should find a way out of that dilemma without pamphlets.

We drove to Toronto Saturday morning to see the Santa Claus parade—sneaking a preview, so to speak, of what is in store for Newmarket on December 11. In retrospect, it seems that we spent most of the morning trying to reach the parade route to see it.

Toronto's traffic problems are not improved by the number of detours on the routes downtown. We thought we would never get into the business section. We tried all the alternate routes to Yonge and Bay Sts. and there was either a traffic jam or a detour sign to frustrate us.

We started early enough with the two older kids bundled into snow suits and hopping with the excitement while the third slept peacefully in his mother's arms. We drove through the early morning greyness, patting ourselves on the back for the forethought of the early departure and the speed and efficiency with which it was accomplished.

All went well until we were into the city and then we felt like rats in a maze—every avenue to the downtown section seemed blocked. By the time we found our way through—by a series of manoeuvres which would have done credit to the late General Patton—Stella had fallen asleep, the baby was howling with hunger, Geoff, the oldest, was sulking with exasperation.

Once south of College St., fortune smiled and we were able to find parking space near the store, but as we stepped out of the car, we could hear the bands in the distance. With Geoff on our back, we ran through the amused shoppers, dodged the street cars on Yonge St. and made it to the fringe of the parade crowd just as the head of the parade was passing.

A century of aching minutes later, after Santa had disappeared into the store, we eased Geoff from our shoulders and asked him if he saw the old gentleman. "Look at the man on the horse, dad!" he said pointing to one of the mounted policemen. "Yes, Geoff," we said. "Did you like the parade?" "Look at the man on the horse, dad," he said.

Well, even if only to show him a man on a horse, his interest in that spectacle was worth the trip although it would have been much simpler to have gone to the nearest riding academy.

The hydro shortages have emphasized how dependent we are on electric power, and how disastrous the effects of lack of that power.

There has been much speculation about where an atomic bombing attack would be aimed if Canada were attacked.

The consensus seems to be the cities because of the heavy loss of life that could be inflicted.

We think a more practical target would be our major hydro dams. If they were knocked out, the "industrial shield" about Toronto would be made completely useless, unable to turn a wheel to supply the arms of war.

The same would apply to the United States where, by the knocking out the one dam which supplies electric power for Oak Ridge, the atomic energy centre, the United States would be prevented from further atomic activity until an alternate source of power was found.

From the Files of 25 and 50 Years Ago

Right Rev. James Sweeney, Lord Bishop of Toronto, dedicated and opened Wednesday night the new parish hall of Trinity Anglican church, Aurora, according to the files of 25 years ago. He was assisted in the ceremony by the rector, Rev. P. R. Soanes, and over 500 people were present. The hall contains nine class rooms and its total cost is approximately $10,000.

Cockburn, assistant agricultural representative, outlined the benefits and constitutions of such an organization. C. W. Williams was elected president and L. E. Ewart, secretary-treasurer.

Considering the roads last Saturday, there was a large market, according to the files of 50 years ago. Butter was plentiful and was bought from 14 to 16 cents. Fresh eggs were scarce and buyers paid 22 cents for them. Dressed chickens sold from 35 to 45 cents a pair. Apples were 10, 15 and 20 cents a basket, and pears 30 cents a basket. Potatoes were plentiful at 50 cents a bag and 45 cents by the load.

Parity prices for farm produce. Out west we hear parity prices talked about. Dow we do not know just what is meant. We know that the produce price should be on a level with prices we have just how this is to come about I do not know.

Before the depression of the "hungry thirties", when over $1.00 per bus. and it dropped to 40c per bus. Wages, and commodities prices all came down.

It would seem that the price of wheat is the centre economic system. Supposing all wages, commodities and prices were based on the price of wheat, and suppose we price of wheat at $1.00 per bus., then suppose wages a per day, one suit of clothes at ten bus. of wheat or ten c labor; a house at 1,000 bus. of wheat or 1,000 days of Would this work?

In this system there would be no place for speculation. It would be nice for the farmer to know we would get for his crop and stock in the spring when he sows.

Is it right to speculate and gamble with our food? Those who do so know that food is always in demand. put a patch on our overalls or our underwear, but we make our dinner do for our supper. We can do without clothes and boots and cause buyers' resistance. But we do this with food.

Should the grain exchange stay or go? The grain change does do a service for the farmer. In the fall, the er, to meet his expenses, has to sell his grain. The exchange buys the grain from the farmer and puts it on the market at demand. So far this is real service. the war was on, the grain came from the west. We had a shortage. When word came that the grain exchange was open, there was no grain to be had, and since the open grain exchange we have had trouble with supply of. Film Show Aids European Child

Mount Pisgah—On Friday evening, Nov. 19, the Gormley Women's Institute sponsored "Marshall's Movie Show," an evening's entertainment by "Marshall's Five-Star Hatchery," Kettleby. It was held in S.S. No. 7, Whitechurch, and in spite of the very bad weather, the school was comfortably filled and everyone reports a very enjoyable evening.

The proceeds were in aid of the "Save the Children fund," to finance the adoption of an overseas child for another year, and a good sum was realized.

Mr. "Chick" Black, accompanied by his wife at the piano, sang several lovely solos and led in a real lively sing-song. Three local boys gave everyone a laugh when they tried to burst balloons after munching several dry graham crackers.

The slides were on adventure, travel, comedy, education, and indeed very beautiful. The local pictures made us realize what a grand place York County really is and the slides taken at Marshall's Hatchery show a real beauty spot.

GOLDEN GLOW
says

Did you ever have a lesson at high school demonstrating what the teacher called "Association of Ideas"? It was to trace back to the source what brought a certain subject into your mind. It is rather fascinating really—and in a way good fun—if you are inclined to that sort of thing. You think of something you had apparently forgotten ages ago, and follow back in your mind what it was that you associated with it, and see if you can trace it right back to its beginning.

Well I have traced back just what brought back Newmarket Fall Fair to my mind the other day. No, I won't ask you to guess—unless the same thing is associated in your mind. When I tell you, maybe you too, unconsciously associate it with your memories of those happy days. I was walking down street behind a man smoking a fragrant cigar (not a "two-for," I assure you.) and I found myself remembering old forgotten happenings at Newmarket Fall Fair, over at the "Show Ground" at the east end of town.

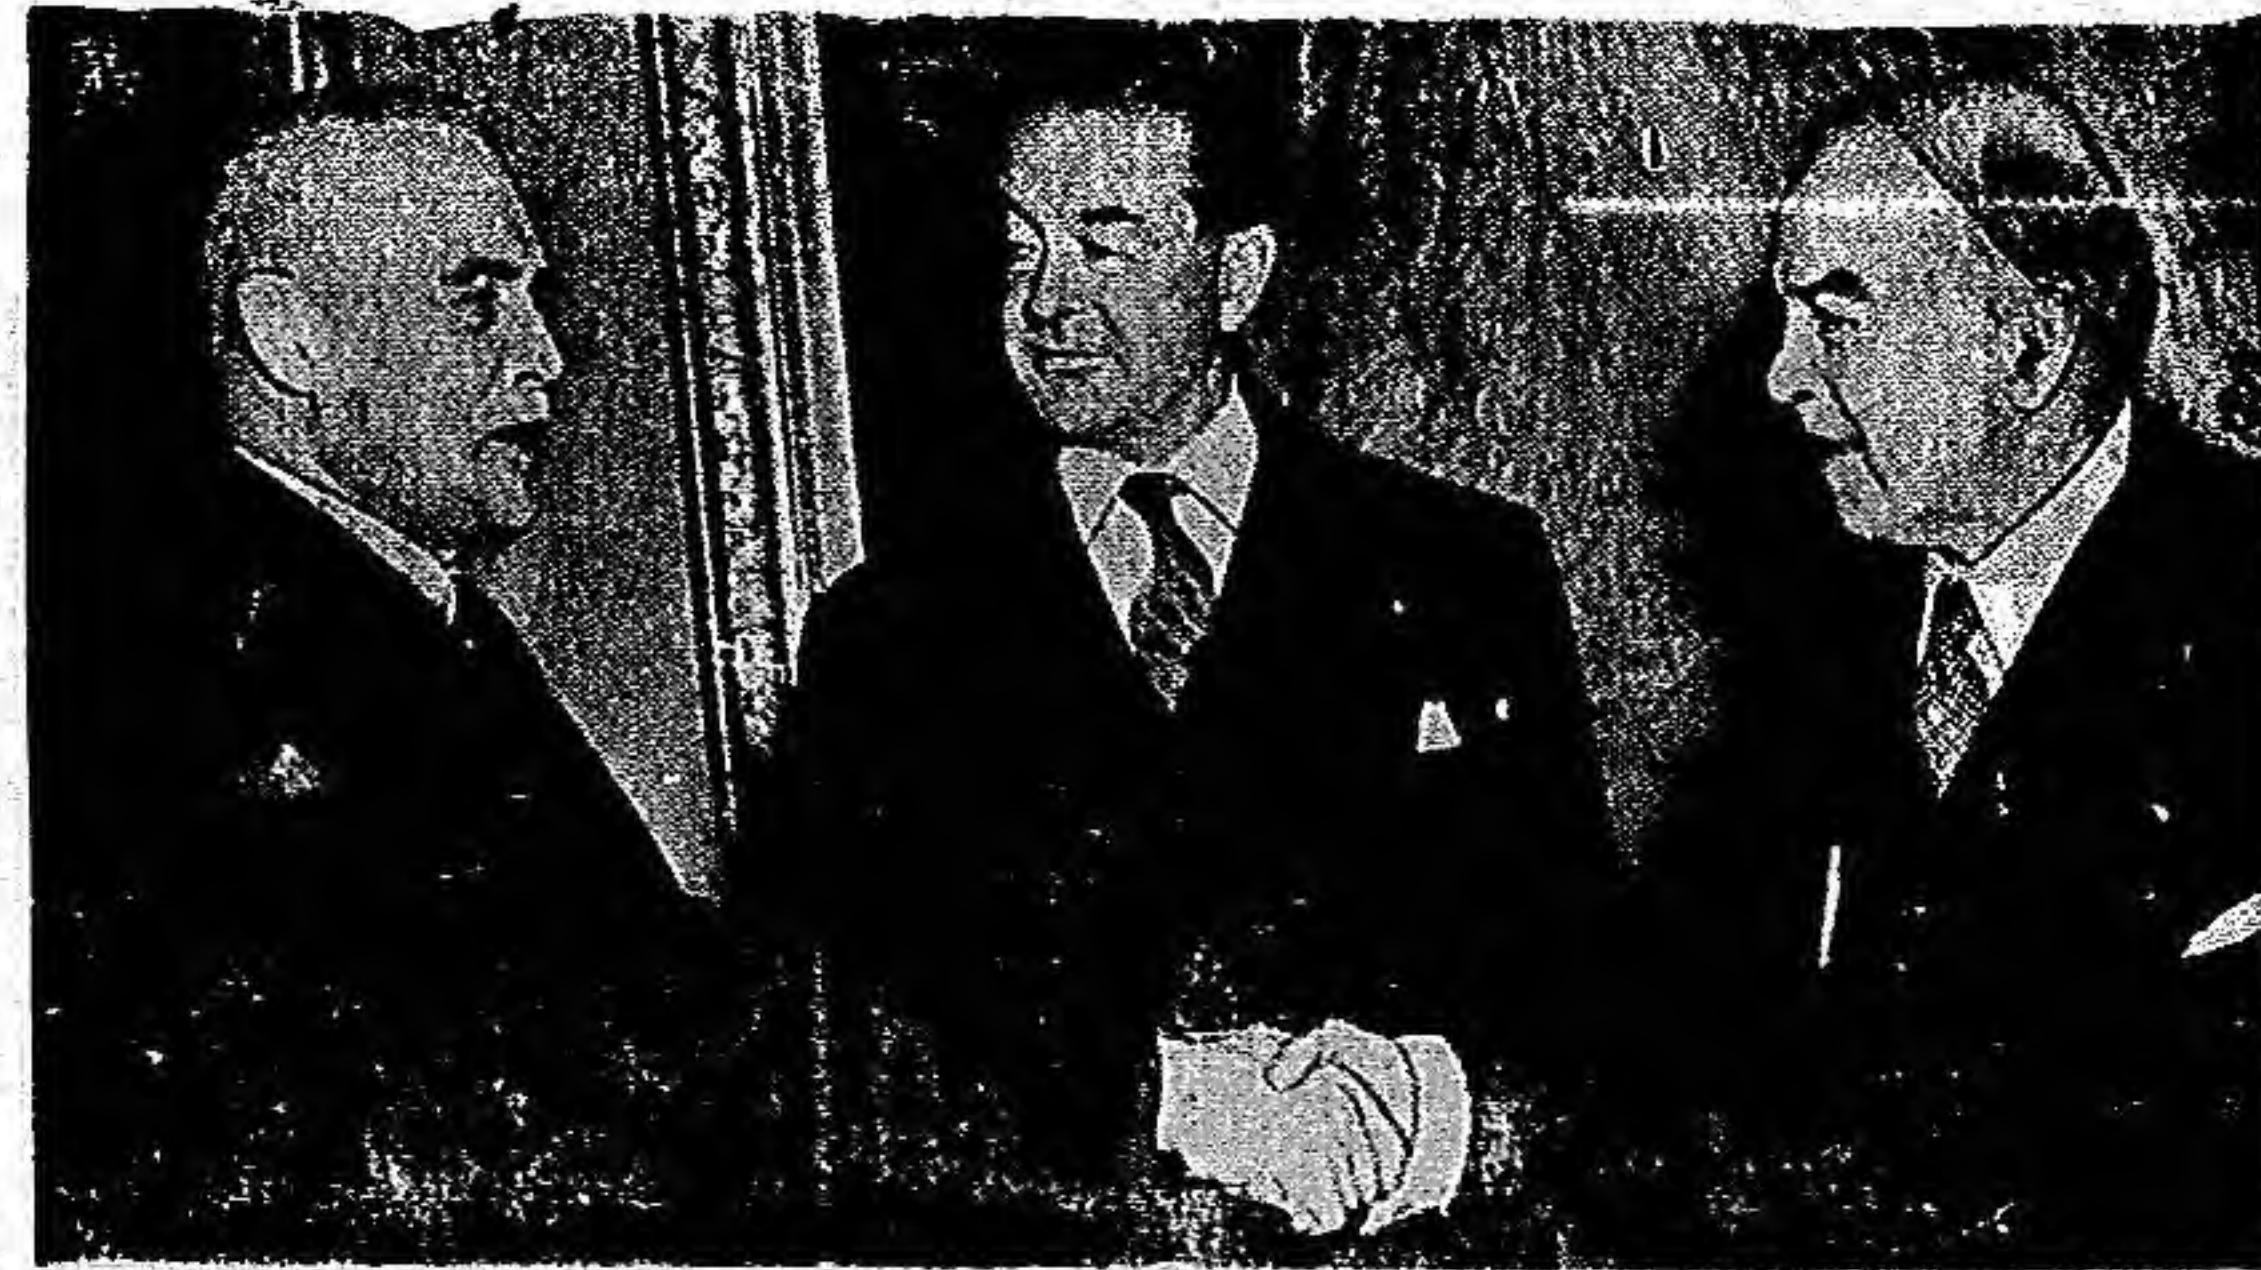

I began to wonder why our fall fair had come into my mind and finally as the scent of the cigar came drifting back to me, I decided it must be cigar smoke. Then again last week, at a banquet, the same thing happened; I found myself thinking of Newmarket Fall Fair. I am now practically certain that it was the cigar smoke that carried me back over the years to long-forgotten afternoons spent at our famous fall exhibition.

Newmarket Fall Fair was something worth while. You don't need to take my word for it; ask anybody who used to attend. Of course that was before the war and as we had the camp site there and on the farm adjoining, at the top of Strigley St. I don't suppose Newmarket Fall Fair will be revived, let alone attain its old-time glory and flavor. Folks came from miles around and we invariably had grand weather even if it was usually held in October. Schools were closed so the scholars could attend and "Children's Day" was something small folks enjoyed to the limit. Ice cream cones, bunches of luscious blue grapes, as large as small plums, pop-corn, "floss" candy and peanuts in the shell.

Before the fair closed its doors for the last time we had advanced to the day of "hot-dogs," those delectable sausage rolls so loved by small folks. In those days a good-sized crusty roll was broken apart and liberally plastered with French mustard which oozed out both ends as you took a bite of the enclosed wienner. I believe they used to butter the rolls as well, at any rate they were mighty good, or so I thought then. Maybe I wouldn't go for them in the same way now, yet as I recall a wienner roast on the shore of Lake Huron, while on our holidays, I recall I ate two and thoroughly enjoyed them.

But Fall Fairs are not just "eats." There are exhibits of all sorts and I recall those days of the elephant-sized potatoes and turnips, the huge carrots and other vegetables. Then the horticultural display, the poultry and livestock, the horse racing, and the judging of the "best turn-out" and so on. The fancy work upstairs and the carving and paintings and drawings by local artists told how Newmarket really did put on a show!

Lakeview Forum Has "Review Night"

Boyer's Road — The Lakeview Farm Forum met at the Stinson home on Monday evening. It being review night, we listened to the forum news, then spent the evening playing progressive euchre. Mrs. Stinson won the ladies' prize, Gordon Hare the men's prize.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Ed. Alder, Nov. 29.

Miss Thelma Meyers and friend of Toronto spent the weekend at her home.

Mrs. J. W. Rynard returned home last week after spending a number of weeks in Stamford visiting her son who is quite ill.

The Newmarket Dramatic club will present its play, "You Can't Always Sometimes Tell," in Zephyr Community hall Tuesday, Nov. 30, at 8.30 p.m., under the auspices of the hall board.

Mr. and Mrs. Alec. Arnold, who are attending the Royal Winter Fair, are spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. A. Arnold.

Mr. Horner Walker is spending a few days in Toronto attending the fair.

The Sunday-school Christmas concert will be held in the United church Friday evening, Dec. 17.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kearns spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Tillman Meyers.

MOVE TO U.S.A.

Newmarket — Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Howard have sold their property on Court St. and left for Kelso, Washington, on Wednesday. They will spend Christmas with Mr. Howard's brother, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Howard, and family. They plan to make their home in Kelso.

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

Whatever you undertake — give it everything you've got!

Your job or working conditions may not be to your liking. But don't let that be a damper. Put everything you have into your work and see how much happier you feel.

Suppose some acquaintance drop in for a visit, thus interrupting your enjoyment of a book or radio program. If you resent their intrusion, your guests certainly will not enjoy themselves. And you will be bored and restless. But if you decide that since they are there, you will be as pleasant and entertaining as you can — then they will have a good time and, to a surprising degree, so will you.

Whether you apply this principle to conversation, games, hobbies, or community activities, the results will be more than repay you for the extra effort you make.

And putting your heart into everything you do will make your whole life happier and more successful!

E. G. GUNTON WEDS
BROWNHILL GIRL
On Saturday, Nov. 20, at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs.
Willis Harrison, Mount Albert, a pretty double-ring ceremony marked the marriage of Teresa Doreen Leitch daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Leitch, Brown Hill, to Edmond Gordon Gunton, son of Dr. and Mrs. C.
Gunton, Aurora. A cousin of the groom, Rev. Harold Buckner, Hartford, performed the ceremony under an arch of evergreens, carnations and wedding bells. The wedding march was played by Mr. Kenneth Ponting, Newmarket. Mr. Lawrence Wright, Newmarket, gave a beautiful rendition of The Lord's Prayer before the wedding vows were taken and during the signing of the register sang Because.
Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white satin styled with fitted bodice and net yoke encircled in bodice and net yoke encircled in cream lace. An overskirt of lace-edged satin panels fell over a full circular skirt and flowed into a train. Her embroidered, finger-tip veil was held by a coronet of pearls. She wore a strand of pearls, the gift of the groom, and carried a shower bouquet of red roses.
The matron of honor was Mrs. Willis Harrison, the bride's sister, the bridesmaid, Mrs. Albert Lunt, cousin of the bride, and the little flower girl, Miss Joan Harrison, the bride's niece.
They were gownned respectively in blue, pink and yellow taffeta with fitted bodices and full bouffant skirts.
Long, matching taffeta mitts and coronets completed their costumes and they carried old-fashioned, lace-edged nosegays with pastel ribbons.
A wedding supper followed the ceremony. The bride's mother received the guests in a navy blue ensemble, matching accessories and corsage of red roses. The groom's mother assisted in Victorian green crepe, matching accessories and corsage of apricot roses. For a motor trip to Key West, Florida, the bride chose a princess blue wool suit, grey accessories and corsage of pink roses. On their return the couple will reside in Aurora.

GOLDEN GLOW
Says
If you recall my article of when I was lamenting the loss of so many migratory birds and said how many thousands of wild fowl and birds were dashed to death when they hurled themselves against the lighted windows of the many lighthouses in their course, I was pleased to get a magazine through the mail yesterday that told of a remedy —if we can only get our government to adopt it. I am indebted to the kind friend who sent the copy of Time Magazine, October 18—with this letter marked. It is headed Bird Sanctuary:
"In reference to the rain of dead birds in Manhattan (Time, Sept. 20); The Dutch North Sea Island of Terschelling lies smack in the track of bird migration.
Every year up to 1,000 of trek-ing birds of many varieties flow to death against the lenses of the island's lighthouse. In that year, horizontal racks or frames of half-inch steel bars about a foot apart were built around the base of the great lantern. Result, the birds light in the bars instead of flying themselves to death."

Meat loaves are general favorites in most families. Besides being made from less expensive cuts, a comparatively small amount of meat is extended by the addition of cereals so that it fits into the economy budget.
Canned pressed meat loaves may be used cold just as they come from the can or they may be covered with a thick "icing" of mashed potatoes and baked in a moderate oven (350°) until the potatoes are browned and the meat heated through.

GOLDEN MEAT LOAF

1½ Lbs. ground beef
1 Cup rolled oats
1 Cup chopped raw carrots
¼ Cup chopped onion
1 Egg, beaten 1 Cup milk
2 Tsp. salt ¼ Tsp. pepper
1 Tsp. spicy meat sauce

Combine all ingredients thoroughly. Pack into a greased loaf pan. Bake in a moderate oven (350°) one hour. Yield: eight servings.

KIDNEY AND BEEF LOAF

½ Lb. beef kidney
1 Lb. beef, chuck or round
1 Medium onion
1 Cup dry bread crumbs
¼ Cup chopped celery
1½ Tsp. salt ¼ Tsp. Pepper ½ Tsp. chopped parsley (optional)

1 Egg, slightly beaten Put beef, kidney and onion through the meat grinder. Add remaining ingredients and mix well. Shape into a loaf and place in a greased pan. Bake in a moderate oven (350°) for 1½ hours. Serve hot or cold. Yield:
six to eight servings.

VEGETARIAN MEAT LOAF

1 Cup cooked beans
¼ Cup peanut butter
4 Tsp. chopped onion
1 Tsp. salt

Few grains pepper
¾ Cup soft bread crumbs
½ Cup grated mild cheese
1 Cup strained, canned tomatoes ¾ Cup milk 1 Egg, beaten Grind beans and mix with peanut butter. Add remaining ingredients. Pack into buttered loaf pan and bake in moderate oven (350°) for 30 minutes.
Yield: six servings.

Young Hopefuls

By DOROTHY MUIR BOWMAN

Catherine, a young teen-ager, couldn't decide what type dress she wanted — an informal to wear as a contestant in a public speaking contest, or a new formal for a school dance. At first, she thought, she wanted a formal because Jean and Betty were wearing new ones. Then she heard that Barbara, her main competitor in the speech contest, had a new dress for the occasion. Poor Catherine felt miserable. She wanted two new dresses and the family budget only allowed for one.

This predicament required some fatherly support so Catherine took her problem to her father. Now Catherine's father has ideas on every subject and when he is in the mood to expound he has a convincing manner. When Catherine approached him, he was in the mood to expound on one of his ideas, that men make more forceful speakers than women.

"Why? Perhaps, for one thing, they aren't inhibited with so many thoughts regarding their appearance. A man's attire follows conventional lines.

There aren't so many interesting details in cut, color schemes or materials to distract the audience or cause the speaker himself to become self-conscious.
Men's clothes, whether they are formal or informal, are more or less standard — and therefore not conspicuous to the audience.
They are simply taken for granted by the audience and the speaker.

"In contrast, consider the ladies, that is, the ones who are too concerned about their appearance. They are often self-conscious about their clothes—and even more so when they speak in public. If their outfit is of a conspicuous nature, the audience may resort to mentally criticizing it instead of listening to the speaker. There is nothing more disconcerting to any speaker than to realize he hasn't the attention of his audience. Ladies become confused and may imagine their slip is showing, their hat is crooked or any number of other things are wrong.
Actually, the speech is a failure because it can't compete with the conspicuousness of the speaker's clothes.

In conclusion, Catherine's father advised her to wear something inconspicuous and comfortable—something that she liked and that her friends had already seen and admired—that if she wanted to hold the attention of the audience with her speech—which does count the most points in public speaking contests.

Catherine admitted that she liked being admired for her clothes at dances; but she wanted the audience to listen to every word of her speech. At this point, Catherine was positive she wanted a new formal and didn't want to wear a new dress—even if she could have it —in the public speaking contest.

The Common Round...

By Isabel Inglis Colville

MORE ON THE
W.I. CONVENTION

I thought this week that I'd write about the luncheon at the Area convention, with its speeches, its good music, good food and good fellowship. In this column, each year, I've told you what was on the menu for there are few women that are not interested in the search after changes to vary the steady three-meal-day program that faces the housewife.

Here is the menu: Fruit cocktail, baked ham with raisin sauce, carrots and peas, duchess potatoes, lemon chiffon pie, rolls and coffee. The round tables seated nine each and at ours we had Mrs. Armstrong and Mrs.
Downey from Campbell's Cross Institute, Mrs. A. C. Dymott and Mrs. Joseph Shipley, Shallow-
Lake W.I., Mrs. R. Armitage, Pine Orchard W.I., and Mrs.
G. McClure, Mrs. G. Hunt and Mrs. Frank Williams, Bogarttown W.I. In that banquet hall were between 500 and 600 women — and four men! Rev. Dr.
W. J. Johnston, Hon. T. L. Kennedy, C. D. Graham and Mr. T.
Hender, soloists.

At our table, which I suppose was as representative as any, we exchanged views on everything from the delectable raisin sauce on the ham to the present state of the world and then we were ready to push back our chairs and listen to whatever good things fate had in store for us—and they were good.

Mrs. Norman White, convention chairman, after a few remarks, called on Mrs. Houck to introduce the speakers. In welcoming them, she also introduced their wives, who, she said, were the "power behind the throne." Hon. T. L. Kennedy, premier of Ontario, acknowledged that such indeed was the case. He spoke with feeling of the day, Nov. 11, when through the efforts of those — living and dead, who had fought for it—peace came again to the world.
He stressed the importance of character-building in our youth today and he brought greetings and "thank you" from the province of Ontario, and said that the farm produces today, as always, so many worth while men and women. Mr. Graham, deputy minister of agriculture, brought greetings from his department and said on this day we should re-dedicate ourselves to go forward to do a bigger and a better job.

Mr. Hender sang a group of songs which made a pleasant interlude. His voice was excellent, expression good, and he carried his audience with him.

The guest speaker, Dr. Johnston, of Eglinton United church, Toronto, said he was going to speak about crystal gazing, but first he told one or two stories.
One was about two Irishwomen, neighbors. The son of one of them was with the American army at Guadalcanal and when the neighbor asked after the soldier lad, his mother said solemly, "I'm worried about him."
"Worried?" queried her friend,
"why, he's a fine lad." "Still," said his mother, "I'm worried, in his last letter he said he'd been out with a jeep — and that's a female Jap, isn't it?" Dr. Johnston said most people were on a quest for happiness, for security. He said we are blessed with imagination—we can project our thoughts into the future. We dream and if we are sufficiently eager, we can make our dreams come true. Our eyes are put in front that we may look ahead. Tennyson and Tolsloy looked into the future.
We all have to have some one to whom we can tell our fears and forebodings—also our hopes and aspirations. Just now fear is the prevailing power in the world. Protestants fear Roman Catholicism, Roman Catholics fear a united Protestantism. We fear the dark cloud of Communism; we fear this, we fear that, and so often none of the fears are justified. We are the product of the past; the future is the product of today. A bigger unity than the world has ever known is shaping up — we are leaving the nationalistic spirit and gaining world consciousness.
Amsterdam Council of Churches helped to bring about a closer co-operation among churches than ever before and a spirit of world friendliness is making itself felt. Dr. Johnston said if you want a radiant life, help those that are down.

Mr. Hender sang another group of songs concluding with
"There is no Death."

I'd like to say a word here about the little interval of remembrance that we shared in the morning. We sang "O God Our Help in Ages Past," Kipling's "Recessional," and stood in silence while the pianist played as softly as a prayer, "God Save the King." It is ul-ways a touching tribute that goes deep down to the root of things.

Next week I will give other reports. One thing I wish to mention here and that is to pay a tribute to Miss Anna P. Lewis, whose tact, imperturbable good temper and encyclopedic knowledge of W.I. concerns seems to draw all the varied W.I. threads into a perfect pattern.

A Bazaar

Our Bogarttown W.I. staged a bazaar on Tuesday, Nov. 16, at the home of Mrs. Roy Harper.
It was a delightful day and everyone who attended, and there were many, was in the mood for enjoyment. There was a variety of pretty, useful things and nearly every thing was disposed of, the result being a decided sizeable addition to the B.W.I. treasury. There were many lovely cakes, pies and tarts which sold with great rapidity. Then after the selling was over and the regular meeting attended to, we served lunch on little trays which were daintily set with serviette, cup and saucer, and held a plate with two constricting sandwiches, a generous slice of cake, and a doughnut—this for ten cents. A box had been packed and sent to a family in Britain who we hope will receive it for Christmas.

A Debate

There is nothing like a debate to bring out opinions pro and con on any given subject and at the close of the Business and Professional Women's dinner at the King George hotel we heard some arguments re women jurors. A good many women felt they could never bring themselves to concur in a verdict of capital punishment.
Another point of view was that women could tell much more easily than men when women were not telling the truth on the witness stand.

Another view was that all those on juries should have a knowledge of psychiatry, another said that as our laws were being well administered at present, why not preserve the status quo. All felt that those serving on juries should be chosen with more care, but the majority felt that juries were not for them.

I wish to rectify an omission.
At the Bogarttown Memorial evening Mr. E. Storr gave a reading. This was inadvertently omitted last week.

Aurora Juniors Cut Squad To 24

Aurora juniors held another two-hour session at Barrie last Sunday under the watchful eye of coach "Red" Mitchell. The Meteors have cut the size of the squad down to 24 for next week but one or two newcomers may add to that number. The lads who have been dropped from the squad will be given every opportunity to make the grade of them may get a chance with the Meteors later in the year.

Toss Coole and Nick Penny, who played with Unionville last season, turned up last Sunday. Both boys qualify under the territorial rule to play with Aurora and have apparently been given the cold shoulder in the Unionville plans this year. Coole should fit in nicely on the Aurora defence.

It appears too early to say who will make the squad, but already some of those rated as surefire regulars in pre-practice calculations are being pressed hard by ambitious rookies. The team hopes to get in a few exhibition games and will likely journey to Midland, Bracebridge and Collingwood before long.

Jack Atkinson of the Stouffville team, who was expected out with the team according to all reports, has decided to throw in his lot with North Toronto Lions who will be classed as Junior B but expect local groupings.

High School Students See Olivier's 'Hamlet'

Newmarket — On Monday, Nov. 22, 40 students of Newmarket high school with two of the English teachers attended the Canadian premiere of Sir Laurence Olivier's production of Hamlet by Shakespeare.

The premiere, sponsored by the Collegiate club of the Robert Simpson Co., was held in the new Hyland theatre in Toronto. About 1,100 students from Toronto and district, whose schools are represented in the Collegiate club, attended the performance.

Olivier gave new meaning to the famous old lines and gave without a doubt one of the most stirring and magnificent performances ever recorded. The rest of the hand-picked cast more than satisfied their trying roles.

The famous soliloquy "To be or not to be" was interpreted in an unusual manner. Hamlet did not speak all the lines but the soliloquy was recorded as thoughts running through a perturbed mind. The ghost

Ladies' Golf President Mrs. Wm. Garfat

Mrs. William Garfat has been elected president of the Aurora Ladies' Golf club succeeding Mrs. Hugh McRae. The 1948 reports showed one of the best years in the history of the club with the following trophy winners: Mary Lyn Molyneux trophy, Mrs. A. W. Boland; the Ralph Webb trophy, Mrs. Elsie Schmidt; Richmond Hill; the Mrs. James Whimster trophy, Mrs. Garfat; the Rose trophy, Mrs. Pauline McKenzie; the H. W. Fleury trophy, Mrs. Lees O'ram. Officers for 1949 besides Mrs. Garfat are: vice-pres., Miss Grace Patterson; sec-treas., Mrs. William Thompson; capt., Mrs. Herb Cain, Newmarket; vice capt., Mrs. Elsie Schmidt. The ladies are holding regular afternoon bowling each Tuesday afternoon at Aurora.

scenes were gloomy and mysterious and as the camera showed different parts of the castle, Elsinore, the tragic plot which hung over the play could be sensed.

The duel between Hamlet and Laertes had all the swordsmanship skill and agility to give it tense excitement and apprehension. The famous lines as uttered by Hamlet's best friend, Horatio, after the death of the Dane by a poisoned sword, "Goodnight sweet Prince", added sorrow and emotion to the final scene.

It need not be disputed whether teen-agers appreciate Shakespeare. The enthusiastic burst of applause which answered the performance was enough to show the audience's appreciation.

News 'n' Views By George Haskett

Is you is or is you ain't coming along with us is a question uppermost in the minds of Johnnie Hines, Metropolitan league prez and his working executives in connection with the Aurora entry. The rumor mills have been grinding along this past week that our southern neighbors will not be a party to the Metro league fun. Your scribe has been hot footing to tie it down but nothing definite gives as yet. Trouble seems to be to get the ball rolling.

There's no denying the talent seems at hand to fashion a strong representative in our sister town with Eric "Shut-Out" Smith, Loring "Silent" Doolittle, "Red" Hopper and Normie Nigh of last year's Flyers. Other seasoned campaigners around and about the hamlet are Art Childs, Doug Clark, "Whitey" Jones and Red "Chicago Black Hawks" Mitchell.

Like a host of local fans and fanettes we've been looking forward to a renewal of the intermediate ice hi-jinks with "our southern friends". It used to be enough to mention Aurora would be on hand and automatically you'd bolt down everything and the rink would be the gathering point for all the faithful.

Bradford and Sutton, who'll cross the sticks with the Spitties, will stage initial workouts Sunday at Barrie. Maybe a look see will give a line on their relative strength. Bradford, when they do appear, will have some old favorites in tow, Roy "Mutt" Collings, that poke-check artist Joe Magani, Evan Stevens and Norm "Dodger" Collings.

Goal-keeping may be a bit of a worry in their present surroundings, for should Ken Tuppington forsake the Simcoe centre for a whirl with Len Simmon's Aurora junior patrol, the Celery Chuekers will have to seek elsewhere for a shot blocker.

A peek under the curtain at the teams that battled our own Hoffman crew last winter might not be amiss at this stage. Gravenhurst, 'tis said, have eyes turned north. They hope to cash in on some old time rivalry with Bracebridge and Huntsville. Midland and Penetang are in the organizing stage, can't make up their minds whether to go it together or split. Barrie hasn't reached any conclusions on a senior squad. Orillia, with at least one exhibition fray under its belt, is away and running. "Duke" Gilmour, Collingwood manager, had his shipbuilders on the ice at Barrie Sunday. They're all hot up to get into their new and super special artificial ice emporium. They'll do it, too, in two weeks with grand opening December 15. Might possibly be a bid coming from that neck of the woods for an exhibition saw-off with our Hoffman "Spits". Two Guelph imports are with the club to give our old favorites "Dutch" Wheeler and "Jip" Spooner a helping hand.

Mekey Smith heading up the new midgeet league, under the Legion banner, reports considerable buzzing on his telephone. Yes, there's room for more. Better make that call now, my young friends. That ambassador of goodwill won't turn up his nose at a sponsor or two either. Two of these rare items are already in, double that number needed to round out the teams.

Ice chippings: Ken Broughton, 'tis pleasing note, came up with a noteworthy effort on the "Chit Rockets" defence Saturday against Stratford. Kenzie put away his first two goals in junior A company. The first of a long string, we trust.

O.M.H.A. annual convention will be port of call for all minor hockey enthusiasts this Saturday, Royal York hotel.

Ewart Pinder Reports On Rules

Ewart Pinder, Toronto, former Aurora resident, was at the referees' meeting at the Royal York on Sunday afternoon when Clarence Campbell, president of the N.H.L., explained the rule changes. According to Ewart, these are not too difficult and mostly put in print what referees were doing by way of interpretation last winter. We'll have a summary next issue.

Ewart, who will again be in action in the O.H.A., reports seeing Cec Carpenter, Sutton, Jimmy Granger, Richmond Hill, Max Reesor, Markham, and one or two others at the meeting that are known in those parts. Mo "Whattaman" Walsh, who is already busy in senior and junior A, Bob "Silent" Peters, Leon "Smitty" Smith are other district whistle-blowers who will be available for duty on all fronts this winter.

Plan Jump, Tow At Ski Club Site

Newmarket Ski club executive met Tuesday evening to further plans for the coming winter. The club is going ahead with the erection of a jump on The Whooper and a tow is also going in on this run. Progress was also reported on the slalom hill and the clearing of the various trails. Town buses, it is expected, will be available to carry the skiers to their Glenville haunts. Final arrangements were also concluded for the use of the farm house for a chalet and refreshment centre. The trail clearing band will have another go at it this Sunday afternoon. The club is anxious to get all the members possible to tackle the job.

Paint League Sessions Continue At Arena

The Paint League—our friends who are giving their all to make the arena a better place—had further sessions on Thursday of last week and Tuesday night of this week. Some new players, a handy lot with brush and spray, joined the ranks. There were Ted "Recreation Commission" Gould and Les "Arena Chairman" Boynton and Grant Firth, while old hands at the game noted among the flying spray were Johnnie Hines, Frank Sinclair and Geo. Haskett, Jr.

Now you'll be agreeably surprised, if you care to take a peek, at the progress the volunteers are making. The seats have all had a ground coat and the painters moved into the colors Tuesday evening. After that the boards are due for some attention. It shouldn't take long, but of course you're welcome to join the team. After the face-lifting job is complete and "old man winter" obliges, there's talk of a grand opening. See you there!

HOCKEY NOTES

It's too bad that something hasn't been done to provide hockey in Aurora for those fellows who are over the age limit for junior hockey. It was suggested in some quarters that Aurora would have a team in the resurrected Metropolitan circuit, but time has proved that to be erroneous. If there is to be any intermediate hockey it's a big dark secret and none of the players know anything about it.

Aurora Recreation Commission has turned down requests from some of the boys to sponsor the team. The commission is closely allied with the Junior Meteors, and believe two teams will only cut gates down to a minimum by running in opposition as attractions for the fans' support at the ticket-wicket. So far as we know, the older fellows are not particularly interested in the proceeds (strange as it may seem, these days). They merely want a chance to play hockey. That seems to be a reasonable request, and to be an integral part of a complete community recreation program.

We are not harpooning the Aurora Commission for they are still feeling their way, and learning the hard way too in most instances. Their face-lifting job at Aurora Arena has been an outstanding contribution to the community. The East vs. West games of other years have provided plenty of fun for the fans and players (actual and so-called) and the Town League in its years fulfilled a useful purpose. Perhaps it isn't too late yet to plan for something at the arena besides teen-age activities. The Aurora boys figure they could have had a mighty good team. A quick glance of those available without any extra scouting, lists among others such boys as Eric Smith, Loring Doolittle, Howard Patrick, Dave Hopper, Norman Nigh, Alf. Childs (Hoffman's), Alf. Cotey, Doug Clark, Frank Gregoire, Whitby Jones, Billy Mandell, Red Mitchell (when he gets his card) to name a dozen. As it turns out Bill Mandell will journey to Markham in the cause of Markham Millionaires. Loring Doolittle will try out with Newmarket, and the rest will either play outside or hang-up their skates.

"The Clippers" is the new moniker for Stouffville intermediates. Aside from the players we listed before, Horbio Rose of Richmond Hill, Billy "Army" Kelly, Howard Millthorpe, Vic Sluce, and Bill Mabbett are among those still retained for action by coach Lawrie. Mabbett, who resides at Sharon, will probably wind up with Newmarket, Dougie Brannon of Sunderland, who once played with Sutton, is playing with Orillia senior "B" club this year and so is Jack Anderson, another Sutton district favorite. Ed Jackson, ex-Kansas City player and former teammate of Red Mitchell, is coaching the Orillia club.

Remember Tommy Jamieson of Newmarket Camp hockey and softball fame? Tommy is playing a fine game this year for Quebec Aces, and the Aces with such well-known players as Johnny Marois, Punchy Imbach and Johnny Blute are travelling a fast clip. We forgot to record the fact that Ken Nash, who played good sound hockey for Aurora Juniors in the summer of '42, prior to joining the navy, is a teammate of Del. Reamont with Georgetown Raiders. Speaking of the Raiders, the strength of this year's Stouffville team may perhaps be measured by the fact that Stouffville defeated Georgetown, who in turn defeated Bill Thome's Lindsay Meteors, who in turn defeated Welland. That trio rank in the top of any intermediate "A" grouping, and perhaps senior "B" too.

Best wishes to two new hockey proxies, Tiny McFayden of Galt, an O.H.A. stalwart over the years, takes over in the O.H.A. from George Panter, and Harold Dunk of Nobel assumes office in the O.H.A. on the heels of Ken Waters. Mr. McFayden, but for ill-health might have been president some years ago. He is still not too well. As some of us guessed, George Panter, who is here apparent to the Hewitt office when the venerable Billy retires as "Mr. Hockey" among the shamateurs, will still be boss behind the scenes. Mr. Dunk, a school teacher by vocation, has in turn been on the executive from Campbellford, Florida, and now the north. Otto Hurdwick of Bolton, reeve and rink owner, has been moved up to the office of first vice-president of the minors.

The Grim Reaper has taken its toll of two fine sportsmen in recent days. We refer to the late Herb Stocks, and the late Mel Morrison. Mr. Stocks, whose son Jimmy is one of the leading lights in Aurora minor sports, was a fine hockey player for Aurora Juniors and intermediates in the days of the old Aurora arena. Later he turned to bowling and golf and was keenly interested in minor sports. His death was a shock to the entire community. Mel Morrison, former Aurora boy, later of Thornhill, was drowned while on a hunting trip. Mr. Morrison some years ago played hockey for both Thornhill and Maple when lacrosse was revived in the district. The sympathy of all sportsmen goes to the families of the deceased.

last year's Gapco product, dished out the passes to Morley Smalley and Jim Coleman.

Cutting down process starts this week to bring the squad down to a workable size. Practice is slated for Sunday again this week with break-away time set for six chimes at the hotel. Here is something we know the lads will be pleased to note—gym session at Pickering College, Friday evening, November 26, at 7.30 p.m. Master of the bands and twists will be trainer Larry Scheffe.

Boy Scouts Honor Master On Departure

Aurora—On Wednesday, Nov. 17, the Boy Scouts of Aurora, at their regular meeting, presented their Scout master, Capt. Stevens, with a pair of Scout book-ends on the eve of his departure to Mimico where he will be in charge of Salvation Army work. He will be greatly missed here and the boys wish him well in his new home.
